Jod Mai Khao

Head of School - Donnah Ciempka

It is my absolute pleasure to be sharing with you the inaugural edition of Ascot International School's Jod Mai Khao, our fortnightly newsletter. As an International Baccalaureate school we value the attributes of the learner profile and seek in all ways to embody these characteristics in all we do. One of these attributes is to be a communicator and it is through this newsletter that we as a community can share events, celebrate successes and be a part of the Ascot Family.

One of the most amazing parts of working in an international school is the opportunity to experience and learn about the ways people live and the cultural practices and beliefs different members of our community share and experience. This past week at Ascot we have had the opportunity to learn more about the Lunar New Year celebrations and explore Chinese New Year. Watching the lion dance in the school courtyard was not only a joyous time full of colour, noise and celebration, but it was also a reminder of what new year means to us all. A new year or new beginnings is a chance to start over, to put the past behind us and move forward with a renewed sense of purpose. With this year being the Year of the Tiger(虎) it is even more important for us as the the Year of the Tiger symbolizes driving out of the old and welcome new beginnings. For me after the last two we have endured in the face of COVID, this could not be a greater omen. As a community, I ask us all to embrace this new year of 2022, the Year of the Tiger and focus on the new possibilities presented to us and together, grow and learn as a result of change.
